A message from
Rev. Aaron Moad

"Love Like Jesus Loved"

In John 13:31–35, we find Jesus speaking to His disciples in the moments just before His arrest. These verses are both powerful and profound, as they capture the heart of Jesus' final instructions to those closest to Him:

"A new command I give you: Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another. By this everyone will know that you are my disciples, if you love one another." (John 13:34–35)

At the core of this passage is a simple but revolutionary command: love one another. But Jesus doesn't leave love open to interpretation—He defines it "As I have loved you,". In other words, don't love based on your convenience, emotions, or what someone else deserves. Love the way I have loved you.

This is the kind of love that kneels to wash feet. The kind of love that bears betrayal with grace. The kind of love that sacrifices, forgives, serves, and ultimately lays down its life. It is active, humble, and powerful. And it is this kind of love that Jesus points to as the defining mark of His followers.

In a world often marked by division, anger, and self-interest, Jesus' command stands out as radically different. What if the Church—the people of God—were known first not for our theology, music, or good works, but for how deeply and genuinely we love—not just the easy to love, but also the difficult, the broken, the outcast, and even those who oppose us?

Jesus calls this a new command, not because the idea of loving others was a new concept, but because the standard had changed. The law taught people to love their neighbour; Jesus now commands us to love as He loved. Jesus raises the bar, and the power to meet it doesn't come from ourselves—it comes from Him.

We live in a time when many are seeking authenticity. They want to see faith that isn't just spoken but lived. And Jesus tells us plainly: the world will recognise His disciples not by status, buildings, or programs, but by love. Real love. Transformative love.

So, let's take this command to heart. In our homes, may we love with patience and grace. In our church, may we bear with one another, forgive, and encourage. In our community, may we be quick to serve and slow to judge. In every sphere, let's mirror the love of Christ so that others might see Him in us.

As we reflect on this passage, let's ask ourselves: How am I loving others today? And how can I better reflect Jesus' love in my daily life?

May we be a church that is unmistakably marked by love—Christ's love—so that through us, the world may see His glory.

Grace and peace

Offerings

As the Body of Christ here at Banora Point, there are many ways we can contribute to Christ's ongoing mission. Volunteering in local community groups is one way we can be the presence of Christ sharing the Gospel in action in our community. Another important way we can contribute to the mission of Christ at Banora Point Uniting Church is financially. The offering enables the Uniting Church to have a continued presence in Banora Point, it allows us to run our current outreach programs and will help us meet the changing needs of our local community in the future. Our offerings are received physically during the Worship Service every week or if you prefer you can choose to give electronically, directly into our account. You can do this by direct debit or at your local Commonwealth Bank branch. Please contact Neil Rackham if you need any assistance.
